

Subject: Request for Official Information Regarding Civil Marriage for Foreigners in Georgia

Dear Sir or Madam,

I hope this message finds you well.

I am writing to kindly request official information regarding the civil marriage procedure in Georgia for foreign citizens who are not residents of Georgia.

We are an international couple:

- I am a French citizen, legally divorced.
- My partner is an Iranian citizen, single, never married, and Muslim by birth.
- Neither of us is a resident of Georgia, and we would travel to Tbilisi specifically for the purpose of registering our civil marriage.

In order to prepare the necessary documents correctly, I would be grateful if you could confirm the following points:

1. What exact documents are required for each of us?
  - For me (French citizen, divorced)
  - For him (Iranian citizen, single, never married)
2. Is a “Certificate of No Marriage” or “Certificate of Celibacy” required for my partner, given that the Islamic Republic of Iran does not issue this type of document?
  - If required, what acceptable alternative can be provided?
  - If not required, is a declaration signed in Georgia sufficient?
3. Do we need a legalized or apostilled translation of the divorce judgment before arriving in Georgia, or can the translation be done directly at the Public Service Hall?
4. Do foreign citizens need to hold any type of Georgian residence permit prior to marriage, or is a simple legal entry into Georgia (stamp or e-visa) sufficient?
5. How many days should we plan to stay in Tbilisi in order to complete the entire marriage registration process?
6. Are there any specific requirements for foreign citizens from Iran or France that we should be aware of?

We would be grateful for precise and official information so that we can prepare all documents correctly before traveling.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.
We look forward to your reply.

Kind regards,
Catherine Bali
